𝕰ditorial ✒

We started the year 2018 with "Call for Papers" for publishing our 4th edition of Assumption University-eJournal of Interdisciplinary Research (AU-eJIR). Surprisingly, the response have been overwhelming. We received more than 20 papers from across the world. In this new edition (Vol.4: Issue-1) of 2019, majority of research papers are driven by data and comprehensive analytics; others are based on various scientific and social issues. This first edition of the New Year contains 15 research and academic papers covering various interdisciplinary domains.

In this new edition, each paper is provided with an Abstract, a downloadable Microsoft Word and an Adobe PDF file. To open and read your paper you must have Microsoft Office 2007 or an updated version of MS Office and Adobe Acrobat Reader. You can download a free version of PDF reader from Adobe Website.

I must remind to our contributors and readers that we do not charge any fee for publication. We select a limited number of papers based on their significance and overall quality.

I am very indebted to Rev. Brother Bancha Saenghiran, PhD, President, Assumption University for his faith in GSeL to continue to publish AU-eJournal of Interdisciplinary Research (AU-eJIR). I am also thankful to our Dean, Dr. Chanintorn Jittawiriya Nukoon for his unflinching support. I am sure that the next edition of eJIR to be published in July 2019 will have many more interesting papers from around the world. Please download the new guideline for submitting your paper for the next edition of eJIR. The due date for the next edition Vol. 4, Issue-2 is June 13, 2019. In the end, let me wish the contributors all the best in coming months and also thank you all for your efforts. I wish you all a very successful and Happy New Year 2019.

Kuldeep Nagi, PhD
Fulbright Fellow (USA)
Assistant Professor
Managing Editor- eJIR

JANUARY 14, 2019